

Transatlantic Flight: A Picture History, 1873-1939 (Dover Transportation)

Profusely illustrated volume chronicles exciting saga of international race to make transatlantic flight a reality. Over 250 rare photographs many previously unpublished trace a host of flight attempts, including those made in lighter-than-air balloons, U.S. Navys flying boats, Lindberghs flight to Paris in 1927, Earharts ill-fated attempt in 1937, and more.
