

Lycan Mate

Stella OSullivan is one of three sisters with incredible gifts. She is a finder, a person who can locate anything lost, stolen, or missing. She is also a healer, an individual with the power to enter a persons psyche and mend their broken spirit or simply cure their headache. When the ruggedly handsome, Gunnar Eriksson, enters her bed and breakfast and books a room for ten days, she soon realizes the fates have brought them together for a reason. Gunnar is in desperate need of her healing abilities. She discovers this man lives with an unbearable pain, a grief so devastating, she wonders how he functions at all. All is not what it seems, however. Gunnar has deep, dark secrets and Stella faces a shocking truth that will change her life forever. Gunnar Eriksson is an old and powerful lycan. Although he is an immortal who possesses great strength and speed, he does not possess the one thing he needs to bring his tortured soul peace. He cannot change the past. As soon as he books a room at The Serenity, a bed and breakfast in a remote town in Vermont, his connection to Stella OSullivan is instant and powerful. His inner beast wants to be released to claim the pretty innkeeper, but Gunnar resists. His heart is black and his spirit is dead. He cannot love. The fates, however, have a mind of their own. Since the start of time, Stella OSullivan has been destined for Gunnar Eriksson and from the moment they meet, a shocking turn of events sends them through a maze of danger, threatening their chance for true love.
