

A Southern Thing Series Boxed Set

Book 1 of A Southern Thing series. Star football player, Jack Miller, had it all. The perfect family, looks, girls hanging on his every word, and the respect of most people in his town. But one thing was missing--a man to be his own. When Andrew Collins showed up in small town, conservative Sweet, Georgia, he looked more scrawny mutt than high school senior. Andrews plan was to keep his head down and graduate high school, leaving his family behind to start his real life. When he meets Andrew, Jack thinks hes found heaven, but reality holds him in check until one night when his lips gently slide across Andrews and fireworks go off. As lust and something a little deeper brings them together, compelling them to take chances, people start to notice. Then the unthinkable happens, and Jacks parents find out he likes guys. The battle lines are drawn and they vow to pray the gay away. Book 2 of A Southern Thing series Jack Miller has more than he could ask for with Andrew as his boyfriend, but its being taken away from him and there isnt anything he can do. His father knows hes gay, and his mother wants him to have sex with a girl to make sure hes not mistaken. Andrew Collins has found the perfect home in foster care with Cole and Melinda Kemp, but it wont last. The DA thinks his parents have proven theyve changed, but Andrew doesnt believe the change will last. Just when Jack and Andrew think it cant get any worse, it does. Jacks father sends him to New Life Christian Camp, a program that promises to pray the gay away. But Andrew has it worse as his father takes out his anger on him, leaving him near death. Both Jack and Andrew are lost to each other, their lives in tatters all because their parents wanted to pray the gay away. Book 3 of A Southern Thing series. When he was a kid, Jack Miller thought life would be a certain way, then he figured out he liked boys and not girls, changing the course of his future. Jack has spent the last few years learning that life doesn't always give you what you expect, in both good and bad ways. Andrew's gone missing and Jack's parents have split. He's made it through high school, but the future is nothing without Andrew. To be complete, Jack knows he needs to find Andrew and bring him home. But Andrew has disappeared. Lost doesn't even begin to describe how Andrew Collins feels. Homeless and destitute, he's ready to end it all. Thinking that Jack is dead, Andrew returns to Sweet to end his life on Jack's grave. Instead, he finds lies were told that drove him to a path of destruction. After not seeing each other for almost a year, Jack and Andrew come together, but their problems don't end there. They must work hard to make it to their big fat Southern gay wedding or risk losing it all.
