

Born in Exile a Novel, Vol. 2 (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from Born in Exile a Novel, Vol. 2 Why are you obstinately silent? wrote Earwaker, in a letter addressed to Godwin at his Peckham lodgings. I take it for granted that you must by this time be back from your holiday. Why havent you replied to my letter of a fortnight ago? Nothing yet from The Critical. If you are really at work as usual, come and see me to-morrow evening, any time after eight. The posture of my affairs grows dubious; the shadow of Kenyon thickens about me. In all seriousness I think I shall be driven from The Weekly Post before long. My quarrels with Runcorn are too frequent, and his blackguardism keeps more than pace with the times. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work. Forgotten Books uses state-of-the-art technology to digitally reconstruct the work, preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy.
