

Justice Inked (Cowboy Justice Association) (Volume 7)

Sheriff Dare Turner is known for his ever-present scowl and general bad mood. Between a teenage sister who thinks she's all grown up and a killer on the loose he doesn't have much to smile about these days. He simply doesn't have time for fun and games. Rayne Dunn is half free spirit and half workaholic. She doesn't mind the long hours in her tattoo shop creating works of art on skin but sometimes she'd rather be dancing in the rain with someone special. The trouble is she hasn't had a date in way too long. She needs to change up a few things or she's going to work herself into an early grave. Every time these two find themselves in a room together they end up arguing. Rayne thinks the sheriff has a big stick up his posterior and Dare thinks the sexy little tattoo artist is too loud and mouthy. It's best if they stay far away from each other. But when someone breaks into Rayne's shop and then winds up dead that probably isn't going to be an option. Whether they like it or not, they're going to be spending a great deal of time with each other. And they're starting to really like it.
