

Showdown (Aspen Eyes Series #3)

*This is the third and final book in the Aspen Eyes Series. Its recommended to read the books in sequence (Cut and Run, Indian Summer, and Showdown) to best understand the characters and story line. *
Alec's life is at a stand-still. In the wake of his father's death, he has withdrawn from everything and everyone around him. All he can do to get out of bed each morning, let alone focus his energy on his wife, his business, or his best friend's upcoming wedding. But his grief isn't the only thing keeping him down. He's also struggling to make a weighty decision undoubtedly the most difficult decision he's ever faced. Rebecca thought she was doing the right thing by giving Alec his space. She'd hoped that once he worked through the pain of his loss, their marriage would be stronger than ever. But the more she tries to reestablish their connection, the more he seems to pull away from her. When he finally reveals what's on his mind a vision of their future that couldn't be more different than hers Rebecca realizes that she has her own choice to make. The only thing that's certain is that everything on the Flying W is about to change. Especially since the greatest test of their relationship is still to come, from a source neither of them would have ever imagined.
