

Ghost of the Swamp (Subwoofers) (Volume 2)

Alligator, Bear, Cougar, Deer, Eagle They found each other by accident. They became a team for life. Shot by illegal poachers, Patrick Pud Davies finds himself alone and severely injured in the middle of the woods. He is discovered by Billie Crowne, an agent with the EPA, and she takes him to her campsite where she tends to his wounds. As the days pass, Pud finally allows himself to open up for the first time. With Billie, he finds he is able to talk about the horrors of his past, and begins to purge the blackness that has haunted him ever since his tour of duty, and his time as a POW, ended. Because of her, he becomes stronger emotionally and physically. And before he can comprehend his growing feelings for this woman, he realizes she has managed to break through the protective emotional shell he had erected around himself. When he is finally able to contact the others of his team at Bag It and Tag It Excursions, together they try to find the people responsible for attacking him. What they discover will force Pud to make a heartbreaking decision. Because of what he is, he will have to walk away from the only woman who has ever touched his heart.
