

Ginetta Finds a Soul

Slaves in ancient Rome, Ginetta and her mother have been sold to a seedy low class brothel. Her mother keeps young Ginetta hidden in the slave quarters so that at least one of them can escape a life of depravity. At the age of fourteen she is discovered and sold to a high class brothel. Her training begins, to please the wealthy men of Rome. Before she is put to work she is rescued by her knight in shining armour, Vincent, a man she first saw at the tender age of ten, a man who has been imprinted on her mind. She goes to live with Vincent and starts work in his Grand Villa as a maid. She soon discovers something is amiss, Vincent never goes out in the day and she never sees him eat, but she knows one thing. No matter what he is, she is completely and utterly in love with him. But will he ever see her as anything more as a child? When Ginetta turns into a young woman, Vincent sets her free, but she doesn't want freedom, she wants his heart and she will stop at nothing to get it.
