

The Man In The Mirror (Island Community Book 1)

There is a belief that says that there are only six degrees of separation between any two people. Put those people on a small island on the coast between South Carolina and Georgia and you can probably cut the degrees in half. Dr. Aribella Johnson is a trauma surgeon in a community hospital that keeps her busy enough to avoid boredom yet sane enough that she doesn't fear burn out. She enjoys her simple life, her dog, her beach house and her small circle of friends. She doesn't feel anything lacking in her life until she meets Jonah Lee. Jonah is the definition of tall, dark, dangerous with fallen angel looks and a sweet vulnerability that hides the sharp mind of a soldier who is accustomed to making last minute decisions that hold others lives in the balance. He never dreamed he'd need those skills while working on a summer project in the small golfing community. Jaselyn Kendall is a seventeen year old who just wants to be grown up. Struggling to find her place in a world that has been turned upside down since the death of her father, she is trying anything she can to ease the ache. At odds with her mom, becoming reacquainted with an old friend and beginning to trust herself, she'll find that being grown up isn't all she imagined it to be. Kayla Carter just wants to do her job and be left alone. This life of solitude is less choice and more necessity, but it has been hers for years and she is comfortable with it. Finding the isolated community is an answered prayer and the last thing she needs is to be caught up in a drama that will draw unwanted attention. Now all of them will be faced with a life and death situation that will test wills, forge friendships and cement love.
