

Rest in Pieces (PTO Murder Club Mystery Book 1)

Mustang Ridges isnt a town, a stripper, or some old western movie. Shes a feisty, single mom living in the small town of Lakeside, Texas where money does buy happiness and keeping up appearances is much more important than the truth. Six months ago on her thirtieth birthday, her husband decided that married life, fatherhood, and his job as the Lakeside Chief of Police werent as exciting as a permanent vacation to Grand Cayman with his mistress and a million dollars in diamonds he stole from the police evidence lockup. Mustang is a pariah in a Lakeside full of piranha. But she refuses to leavethis is her home, and she figures that if she cant join them, then shell beat them at their own game. With a little luck, some intimidation, and the help of her good friends Monica and Haley, Mustang presides over her own little slice of Lakeside, the Bee Creek Elementary Parent Teacher Organization. All is quiet in Lakeside until Molly Miars, the kindergarten teacher, is found dead. According to the new police chief, she overdosed on heroin. That doesnt explain why her head was the only body part to make it to her funeral. Mustang and her fellow PTOers dont buy the heroin overdose for a second. Vowing to do right by Molly, the PTO decides to investigate. Quickly they find that Lakeside isnt the quiet, sleepy town it appears to be. There is a dark sidemoney laundering and drug trafficking. When Mustangs name turns up on a contract killers hit list, things go from bad to worse. Can she and the PTO stay alive long enough to find out who killed Molly Miars?
