

Red (Family By Choice) (Volume 18)

It began with a meeting in a random conference room. Two people existing, but not living. That meeting started a journey of love, laughter and hope. It has been anything but easy and there have been more tears than either ever wanted to shed.

But there has always been love. That's always been the bottom line. Tommy and Brittany have seen it all and survived. They have been a constant source of inspiration to their families and they truly appreciate the miracles they have been given. Brittany has worked incredibly hard to survive the horrors of her past, despite how they resurfaced and in spite of so many trying to bring her down. Being HIV positive has never been easy, but Brittany has always tried to make her life about so much more than what a group of monsters did to her. Things were going well, until someone tried to use her disease as a weapon; a weapon against someone she loves. Her husband reached his limit. Her daughter was seriously ill. Jack was dealing with the possibility of being infected. A person can only take so much before they break. Tommy might be the only one who can reach her. He has to. He can't live without his Red.
