

Slumming in Paris, Part One

20,265 story words. Arthur and Gricinda arrive in the City of Light for love and a little time alone, before the arrival of their two children and four nieces and nephews, ages nine to almost eighteen, and find their own inner child is alive and well and wanting to walk the streets of Paris! A fun novella. Set in Paris. And yes, definitely a romance ;-). Also in development as an AudioBook.* A young couple with a little time before their two children and the children's four young cousins all arrive to join them in Paris (Parts Two - Eight). A 5 1/2 week personal stay in Paris recently, added to a life long love affair with the City of Light, helped provide much of the inspiration for this first of three related Paris works. [My photo series Paris in 5 1/2 Weeks, on my website, presents many of the pictures taken then, which I hope you will also enjoy.] This is a continuing extended family saga covering characters in ages nine to over sixty. It is stand alone, yet creates an arc with the previous work, The Children and Four Shorts, Prequel to The Children. Two further books that relate to the family are The Old American Artist and Rosetta. They are character stand alone books, which add background on the oldest members of the family. Short stories with the same characters are also available in Texas Shorts and Paris Shorts. Thank you so much for considering my work. I also have poetry and image ebook listings.
