

The Meditations

The philosophy of the Roman Emperor Marcus Aurelius can be found in a collection of personal writings known as the Meditations. These reflect the influence of Stoicism and, in particular, the philosophy of Epictetus, the Stoic. The Meditations may be read as a series of practical philosophical exercises, following Epictetus three topics of study, designed to digest and put into practice philosophical theory. Central to these exercises is a concern with the analysis of ones judgements and a desire to cultivate a cosmic perspective.
