

The Fighter (Redemption Series Book 2)

What would you fight harder for, the one you love, or yourself? When you've lost everything, who's there to pick up the pieces? Nobody but you. Ex-heavyweight champion of the world, Destry Stone used to have it all. Money, fancy homes and cars, and a sexy girlfriend, everything was his for the taking. But trouble has a way of finding the ones on top. At his lowest and with vacant eyes and fire inside, Destry was nothing more than a personal trainer. A chance encounter leads to him finding someone who would never ask him to give up his dream. If anything, Tallan Spencer pushes him, and makes him see there's nothing wrong with fighting for something you believe in. Finally, after months of training, Destry is offered the fight of a lifetime at Caesars Palace in front of thousands. It's his last chance for redemption. He just hopes that trouble backs off long enough to take what's his.
