

Marriage Retreat: A Rekindle Story

Wendys marriage is in jeopardy. Her husband Chris is a wonderful husband and that is the problem. Chris is too caring, too considerate, and too giving. Wendy needs Chris to take the dominant role in the relationship. She needs Chris to Alpha-up and give her the desire and the excuse she needs to submissively please him. In a last ditch effort to save their marriage, Wendy and Chris have scraped together what remains of their savings and are traveling to a secluded marriage retreat that promises to fix their broken marriage. Rekindle is the premiere counseling retreat in the country, they boast an impressive 100% success rate in saving troubled marriages. How Rekindle can achieve such a high success rate is a closely guarded secret. A secret that Wendy and Chris are about to experience firsthand. Excerpt: Sally reached into her pocket and withdrew a small red bottle. To begin implementing your marriage action plan, we need Chris to take this. She popped open the bottle and shook out a small red pill into the palm of her hand. Youre medicating him? I asked, incredulous. Sally gave a small nod of her head, It is part of the action plan. What does it do? I was worried. I think we filled out forms about our medical history but I didnt think they would be used to medicate us. I thought the forms were more for liability on Rekindles behalf. Sally shrugged, Ive been told it makes men better men. This is a 5774 word short story. This story is intended for mature readers, 18+, and contains sexual themes, sexual content, and mature language.
